Hisham Hassan Ahmed Sayed

has completed the following course:

EXPLORING GENDER EQUALITY IN EDUCATION BRITISH COUNCIL

Learners developed a greater awareness of gender inequality in education and explored ways the curriculum can reinforce or challenge gender biases. Learners achieved a greater understanding on how schools can become more gender-responsive, the ability to reflect on opportunities in their learning environment and gained practical approaches to take action.

STUDY REQUIREMENT

3 weeks, 4 hours per week

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Develop a greater awareness of issues around gender inequality in education
- Identify practical strategies for gender sensitive teaching – classroom management, differentiation, curriculum development
- Create a plan for change in your classroom and school

SYLLABUS

- Key concepts about gender in education: stereotypes, gender norms, socialisation, power, gender equality, equity and sensitivity
- Analysis of where your school is now
- Practical solutions for gender responsive teaching: recognising bias, classroom management, differentiation, curriculum development
- Planning for change in your school and classroom
